CLASS HISTORY

The Senior Class of 1947 began its successful career in the year 1942 when all the seventh grades of Greenville were united into one great class. The ability of this class was proved by the splendid work done in the following years.

At the beginning of the school year 1943-44 when the class was in the ninth grade, the first organized freshman class was formed. The class chose as its officers Tommy Diener, president; Lewis Evans, vice president; Ann Oakley, secretary; and Henry Turner, Treasurer. In the spring of that year the Freshman Class gave a big dance which has since become an annual affair.

When this class became the Sophomore class, its members started joining the school clubs and organizations. A very elaborate Coronation Ball was given in the spring with a colonial garden as its theme. Several members of the class wore costumes depicting the age of George Washington. The officers of this class were Ann Beatty, president; Jack Minges, treasurer; Tommy Diener, secretary; and Henry Turner, vice president.

During the year when this class was the Junior Class, a very successful magazine sale was held. The annual Junior-Senior dance was held during May with a sweetheart theme, and the first banquet since before the war was given for the Seniors. Two members of this class held offices in the Student Council: Frances Aman was secretary, and Junius Rose was treasurer.

Marshals were chosen from the class during the spring in order to serve for the commencement exercises. They were Jim Haney, Ann Oakley, Peggy Reid, Joyce Ward, Billy White, Vilma Bland, Mary Dawn Drum, Frances Tucker, and Lina Worthington with Martha Conway and Bernadine Worsley serving as Chief Marshals.

The officers of this class were Tommy Diener as president, Ann Oakley as vice president, Martha Conway as secretary, and Junius Rose as treasurer.

Finally this class reached the long-looked-forward-to title of the Senior Class. The year 1946-1947 was truly a full year for each member of this class. The class chose as its officers Lewis Evans for president, Guy Evans for vice-president, Frances Aman for secretary, and Henry Turner for treasurer.

For the Christmas program the class decided to give Dickens' "Christmas Carol," which turned out to be a great success. This was presented at the regular Christmas program for the public, and also for an assembly program in school. At the latter program, baskets of food were presented by the class to Willie and Curtis, the janitors.

Under the direction of Mrs. Howard Mims, the traditional Senior play was "Spring Fever" by Glenn Hughes, and a splendid cast was chosen for this three-act play. The students in the cast were Guy Evans, Sherod White, Billy White, Barbara Gardner, Betty Jo Wilson, Frances Aman, Eloise Tucker, Jim Haney, Muriel Shotwell, Lina Worthington, Billy Sutton, and Tommy Diener.

A very competent annual staff was chosen by the class and through their hard work this annual has been published. The class chose Ann Beatty, editor; Dennis Cooke and Jimmy Lee, associate editors; Junius Rose, sports editor; Muriel Shotwell, art editor; Henry Turner, business manager; Tommy Diener, advertising manager; and Lewis Evans, circulation manager.

This year the class had two of its members as officers in the Student Council: Tommy Diener as president and Junius Rose as vice-president.

With the Commencement exercises this class leaves Greenville High School, but it takes along with it the fond memories of a cherished life in high school.

PHOPHECY

Clarence and I sat peacefully in the main office of the PLRB Building (formerly the Empire State Building) in New York City. Today, June 1, 1975, was the day we were to leave in search of our scattered classmates, the GHS graduates of 1947.

We already knew the whereabouts of a few classmates—Henry and Carolyn Turner (formerly Carolyn Clark) now run the Waldorf. Henry won further glory when he took the National Typing Championship back in 1960, but his speed has waned now due to an old knuckle injury. At times Carolyn displays her wit as an entertainer on the Starlight Roof.

Hogan Gaskins also made his fortune in the big city—in less than ten years he rose from a lowly garbage collector to the head of the garbage department. He gave up this profession, however, to become a star impersonator in television and radio. His most popular requests are for the Tommy Dorsey impersonation and the “turned down mouth.”

Professor Bud Whitehurst, world renowned teacher and lecturer, is now employed at Columbia University where he gives a lecture a week on “The Finer Things of Life.” In his spare time Bud drives for the Allen Cab Company, owned by Charles Allen. Other drivers for this famous company include Willie J. Lewis and Bobbie Saieed. In a recent newspaper interview Charles stated, “I employ only the most careful drivers for my cabs.”

As we sat waiting, Clarence and I discussed our own occupations—Clarence, you know, is now married to Lou, his childhood sweetheart from Ayden. His success in the insurance business is due partly to me, for it was I who advertised his firm, when it first began, in The KOTW (circulation 176) at absolutely no charge.

At last the porter entered to inform us that our special helicopter was ready to leave, and bidding farewell to our New York friends we departed for Greenville. We were sure of our safety, for the pilot was the famed Herbert Corey, Pilot Extraordinary and winner of the Distinguished Landing Medal. In a matter of seconds we circled Jordon Field in Greenville. As we stepped from the helicopter Billy Jordon, owner and manager, pushed over to greet us. He informed us that quite a few members of the Class of 1947 still lived in Greenville and put us on a subway to Five Points.

When we emerged we noticed a new building in the former location of the State Bank Building, called the Crusader Building. Entering it we found Dave Clark, Editor of The Daily Crusader, busily engaged in explaining to Managing Editor Alvin Taylor the intricacies of the paper's editorial policy—every article contains the words “Look out there.” Dave assured us that before his death he will have reformed the world through this policy. Frances Aman, his wife, was also on hand and told us another feature of the Crusader, its sparkling joke page, is written and edited by the renowned comedian, Doug Guthrie.

“The Faller” is also engaged nightly as a messenger at “Shotwell's Turkish Bath and Reducing School.” Muriel Shotwell, the owner, is unable to work at night because Tommy Diener is still courting her regularly. Incidentally, Tommy now owns the Peoples Bakery, makers of the famed Quadruple Loaf bread.

Back on the street I purchased a newspaper and was amazed to find that Conrad Taylor had recently edged out Charles Atlas on the world's most Perfectly Built Man. The judges awarded the title to Conrad because of the shapely biceps in his legs. Conrad's manager, Mahlon Tucker, credited the success to the amazing new exercise known as “LUSH.” As a sidekick, Mahlon and Conrad run the famous night club, El Spuddiligho, which features Jane Broadwell, Faye Bullock, Helen Gurganus, Merline Jackson and Vilma Bland as nightly entertainers. Melva Harris also helps out when she can leave her husband.

As we crossed the street, who should we meet but Marcel Humber and his wife Bernadine Worsley Humber, world debaters who are rushing to catch a train for Washington, D.C., where they will speak on “Federalized Medicine.” They stopped only long enough to inform us that Joyce Ward had recently married Jimmy Cozart, owner of Cozart's Auto Supply chain. Joyce, they said, stayed at home most of the time nursing her nine children.

At the Pitt Theater, Owner Vick Nichols informed us that Betty Jo Wilson's latest picture, “The Fat Woman,” would soon be released. Co-starring in the production are Billy Sutton, Martha Kate Oakley and Lina Worthington.

We arrived at the court house when a session was closing and thus got in a word with Judge Jim Lee before he departed for his home in Washington, N.C., a recent addition to the Greenville suburbs. Jimmy said that he had tried the case of Sherod White versus the State of North Carolina just the day before. It seems that Sherod had been dating Dot Evans (Dot Savage) lately and her husband, Guy Evans, had found out about it. Judge Lee, however, got Sherod off with only a hundred thousand dollar fine, which is mere chicken feed to this great oil magnet. Dot and Guy separated for a while after this incident, but were soon rejoined as Guy found sleeping in his office at the Evans Supply Company very uncomfortable.

Prophecy—

In the mayor's office we found Lewis Evans talking to his secretary, Ruby Staton. Lewis told us that he was doing quite well—embezzling almost five hundred a day from city funds. Ruby, however, gets half of this as hush money. Later we discovered that Lewis finally married our old classmate Ann Oakley, when Billie White gave up the fight to become a professional giggalo.

As we were leaving the court house we bumped into Junius Rose, the new superintendent of the city schools. Junius, who followed in the footsteps of his father, is now famous among North Carolina educators for his slogan, "Graduation is just over the hill."

Junius said that Evelyn Dennis was now working on a sure cure for cancer, and was being assisted by Mary Rose Edwards. According to Junius, Jeanette Godley and Dolores Little also became "career nurses" and are now practicing at Dr. Donald Smith's Clinic.

At the old fair grounds we found the Barnum, Bailey and Jackson Circus in full swing. Manager Cletas "C-Note" Jackson showed us to a ringside seat and we were surprised to see Grahm Baker doing flips around the center ring. Later, the famous precision riders—Viginia Ross, Lela Gay Bell, Edna Mills, and Dorothy Jean Edwards entered on beautiful yellow stallions. Jenny Briley and Mary Lou Braxton, beauties of the airways, presented their trap-eze act, but the star of the show was Peggy Reid, who drove her 38 Pontiac from a ten foot embankment at a speed of one hundred miles an hour. Miss Reid demonstrated amazing control in the face of almost impossible driving conditions.

We met the Williams girls, Frances and Jean, as we were leaving and they told us they had married brothers from Arkansas, and were now in Greenville to attend the premier of "Burlesque in Seventy-Five," starring Betsy Flye and Barbara "What'll you give me on this, Joe" Gardner. Esther Corbette is torch singer for this production.

It was such a lovely day that we decided to walk back to town. Passing the Minges Estate we noticed a familiar feminine face, which turned out to be Rosemond Minges (Nicholson). We met her five children and looked over her new Cadillac Convertible (the seventh this year). Rosemond invited us to a supper party at which she was entertaining Mrs. James Montague (Sarah Kirkpatrick), Mrs. Earl Morgan (Jean Tripp), and Mrs. Ken Evans (O'Neal Roebuck), but we refused.

At the opera house we attended a concert presented by Jim Haney and his All Girl Orchestra, which contained such outstanding performers as Lorraine Smith and Katherine Taylor, Frances Tucker and Marion Brown. In a brief conversation with Conductor Haney after the concert, we discovered that Jane Tyson and Christine Trippe had married ex-Marines and moved to Texas, that Eleanor Clark was now entertaining in a Hollywood night club, and that Jean McGowan was following in the steps of Doris Duke as a tobacco heiress.

Our last stop was at East Carolina Teachers University where we spoke to President Dennis Cooke. Dennis married his former girl friend, and has settled down to a calm (?) life. Also on the ECTC faculty are Professor Martha Conway, famed for the Conway Theorem of Relativity, and Beverly Neilson, Professor of Religion. These educators informed us that Louise Bizzell and Lucille Hathaway had become misisonaries in Lower Mongolia.

Snapping on our radio, we heard the announcing voice of John Mayo, manager of the local radio station. We also found out that Joyce Duke threw all tobacco aside (namely John Howard) to marry her secret flame all these years, Junius Rose. Ann Beatty has become the wife of the present North Carolina governor.

Leaving Greenville, Pilot Corey advised that we take the short route back to New York—the one through Ujiji. Clarence learned that Mary Dawn Drum was doing well as President of the Ujijian Sulks of Lower Africa, a women's organization she had begun ten years earlier. Mary Emma Hudson, Mary Lee Abbee, Mildred Jones, and Helen Nelson all rose through the ranks and became Sulks First Class before resigning for a better occupation. Mary Emma married the President of Oak Ridge Institute, Mary Lee and Mildred married their old Washington boy friends, and Helen has become first French hornist in the African Philharmonic Orchestra.

Taking to the sky once more we settled in our seats peacefully, for we know, at last the fate of the Class of 1947.

PREVARICATOR

Standing on the steps of The Academy of Fun and Frolic (once known as Greenville High School) a student was approached one day by a stranger.

"Pardon me," said the stranger, "but I've heard much about your fine school and I was wondering if you would show me around."

"Sure," answered the student. "I've got thirty minutes before my next class begins."

"You mean you have thirty minutes between classes?" asked the stranger.

"Why, of course," answered the student. "Our classes are ten minutes long and we need that time to let what we learn during class sink in. The teachers, by the way, are not allowed to assign homework if it will interfere in any way with the extra curricular activities of the students. In fact if more than twenty students are absent in any one day from the entire school, homework cannot be assigned at all; nor can anything new be taken up. This is in keeping with the new policy of the school. It was decided that if twenty students were absent teachers would have to teach the lesson over any way so why not, it was reasoned, wait and teach it only once. This policy was endorsed by students and teachers alike."

"Well, that sounds logical," said the stranger. "But let's go inside and see the building."

With that the two entered the building and proceeded down the hall until they came to a classroom.

The stranger blinked in amazement. Before him was the most luxurious classroom he had ever seen. The "desks" were plush covered easy chairs. In the back of the room was a loudspeaker which played dreamy music.

"That's for the benefit of the students who do not wish to study," said the student guide. "One of the most important rules of the school now is: If a student does not want to study DO NOT FORCE HIM. The office has explained that such action could build up a barrier in the students' mind (this is meant for the lucky few who have a mind) against studying. In an unofficial poll it was determined that 99.999 percent of the students spend their time listening to the loudspeaker."

"Well, it seems that it was a good idea to install these speakers," said the stranger.

"Oh, that's not all," answered the student. "A dance band plays continuously during the school day in the auditorium for the benefit of the students who had rather spend their time dancing rather than in the classroom."

"Another interesting feature of our renovated classrooms is the complete lack of pencil sharpeners. It seems that the students never brought pencils to school anyway so the school board decided that there was no need to spend money to install pencil sharpeners.

"But let's go on. There is more to see."

So on the two went.

"What's that door over there?" asked the stranger.

"Oh, that is the door to the underground passage," said the student. The passage leads to a new twenty-four story AFF publication building. All the great publications of The Academy of Fun and Frolic are published there.

"But the one we are most proud of is that great prize winning daily news sheet The Morning Announcements. It is edited by the distinguished journalist, Mr. O. E. Dowd, and published daily. It has won national recognition for its accuracy and superb journalistic form."

"I see," said the stranger. "And what is the door next to it? The one that big fellow just went through."

"That is the door to the athletic dressing room and the big guy is our star football player. He kindly consented to come to old AFF when the Athletic Council offered him a twenty room house, four cars and a chauffeur, five servants and a salary of ten thousand dollars a season," answered the student. "The administration decided that if we were to have a modern school we might as well have big-time football."

"But here is our pride and joy. It's one of our latest improvements—a homework preparer. It seems that some parents wanted the faculty to continue giving homework. So, naturally, the only way the school board could satisfy the parents and still continue its new policy of as little homework as possible was to install this ingenious machine. Now everybody's happy. The teachers are required to put the answers into the machine each day and when a blank sheet of paper is inserted and the indicator set on the subject desired the machine will, by electronics, print both the problem and the answers on the sheet. The machine will print as many as forty sheets at one time which is as large as any one class.

"Now over here we have—say, where are you going?"

"I'm going to enroll in this school," said the stranger. "Why should I waste my time in the cruel world when I can enjoy life here?"

"You've got me there," answered the student. "Why should you?"

And so it happened that The Academy of Fun and Frolic gained a new pupil.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

COOKE AND LEE
Attorneys Attempting Law

Know all men by these presents; that we, the Senior Class of 1947 of Greenville High School, in order to form a more useless inscription, and being forced by our superiors to vacate our station, do here and now declare our last will and testament in as brilliant a manner as may be expected of said Seniors. This Epistle may be a living testimonial of our remarkable minds and outstanding characters.

PART I

The following are gifts which we the high, mighty and exalted Senior Class do bestow collectively:

1. To the faculty we leave many beautiful memories of ourselves, which will set a shining example of how not to conduct a class in the future.

2. To the Junior Class we leave the honor and privilege of walking in our esteemed footsteps, and do caution them to speak silently and with reverence of their respectable predecessors.

PART II

The following are the individual gifts of the deceased Senior Class:

I, Junius Rose, hereby leave my brother Donny to carry on the traditions of the Rose family, hoping that he won't get caught at it.

I, John Mayo, leave my ability to keep my mouth shut at the right time, in the right classes, to Howard Proctor.

I, Ann Beatty, leave my standard excuse of getting out of class to the next editor of "Green Lights."

I, Betsy Fly, will my ability to walk up three flights of stairs with three different boys and keep them all happy to Jimmy Parrish.

We, Tommy Diener and Lewis Evans, turn the job of directing the school over to Mr. Dowd, as we now feel that he is capable of assuming such responsibility.

I, Jane Tyson, leave for the farm and that tall guy from Grimesland.

We, Dorothy Jean Edwards and Jeanette Godley, leave our quietness to Bernadine Balance, hoping she will take advantage of it. (She'll need it all).

I, Mary Rose Edwards, leave going back to the country, folks. These classes are killing me.

I, Carolyn Clark, leave those gorgeous gams (spiney legs) to "Gert" Laughinghouse.

I, Hogan Gaskins, leave my undying sympathy to Al Smith because of his future years in high school.

I, Dennis Cooke, will to Eleanor Norris my daily apple, and the motto that goes with it. "An apple a day brings those hubba! hubbas! your way."

I, Henry Turner, leave for Asheville wishing that I could take Carolyn with me.

I, Billy White, leave my car keys to Mr. Farley, who has them most of the time anyway.

I, Jim Haney, leave my singing ability to Sam Northrop, who really doesn't need it.

I, Sherod White, leave my ability to talk my way out of things to Alton Howard, knowing that he will need it.

I, Mary Dawn Drum, leave my long black fingernails to anyone who has to fight off Marines.

I, Doug Guthrie, leave a part of my large amount of intelligence to Rex, hoping that he may finally graduate.

I, Joyce Duke, do will a package of chewing gum to Miss Lewis.

I, Alvin Taylor, leave GHS (I hope).

I, Conrad Taylor, leave Jean to "C-Note," as I am going to join Polly.

I, Frances Tucker, take my fingers out of all the GHS pies.

I, Peggy Reid, leave Dan to fill my place in the Dramateers.

I, Lucille Hathaway, will my ability to jitterbug to Emily Dupree.

I, Charles Allen, will my ability to play tag football to Murray Cooke.

I, Van Moore, leave Miss Lewis with a pack of chewing gum in my mouth.

I, Donald Smith, leave GHS, glad that I don't have to sleep through any more classes.

I, Lina Worthington, leave my dependability to Denny Posey.

I, Joyce Ward, leave my superlative to Ann Morton.

I, Eloise Tucker, graduate with a mind full of memories of two White boys, Billy and Sherod.

I, Evelyn Dennis, leave Mr. Starling to whoever may want him.

I, Mildred Jones, leave to join Cubby and I don't mean Ronald.

I, Martha Kate Oakley, bequeath my friendliness to Harriet Carr.

I, Bud Whitehurst, drive off (in Billy's

car) to join Nancy.

I, Mahlon Tucker, will my ability to get along with girls to Billy Williams.

I, Katherine Taylor, leave my ability to be sweet to Dot Cox.

I, Muriel Shotwell, leave GHS to take night classes in campusology at ECTC.

I, Willie J. Lewis, bequeath my fleetness (in running) to Glenn Perkins.

I, Bobby Saieed, leave my height to George Menshew.

I, Jimmie Lee, leave to join my kid, (Gerry).

I, Jane Broadwell, bequeath my golden hair to Frances Bendall.

I, Louise Bizzell, leave my soft voice to Alice Foley Jones.

I, Mary Emma Hudson, will my good looks to Lois Waldrop.

I, Helen Nelson, leave school trying to keep up with Mary Emma and the rest of the gang.

I, Dot Savage, will my dramatic ability to Jean Garriis.

We, Margaret Whitfield and Vilma Bland, leave our scholastic ability to Eugene Carter, hoping that he will make the most of it.

I, Cletas Jackson, leave with the blissful memory of Jean's red convertible.

I, Ann Oakley, leave with the memory of Lewis casting his masterful shadow over my high school days.

I, Sarah Kirkpatrick, leave hoping that James will be waiting for me.

I, Marcel Humber, leave my basketball ability (?) to Joe Alligood.

I, Sir William Sutton, leave the lowly halls of GHS to seek my rightful place in high society.

I, Dave Clark, leave my eternal expression, "Come on Babe" to anyone with a girl of the same name.

I, Bernadine Worsley, leave with Marcel close to my heels.

I, Herbert Corey, leave my football socks to any old soul.

We, Billy Bowen and Clarence Tugwell, leave our high position in the PLRB's to anyone who is fool enough to accept it.

I, Jean Tripp, leave clutching my diploma to join "Spooky" right around the corner.

I, O'Neal Roebuck, leave the excitement of high school to join the cows, chickens, hogs and—Ken.

I, Jean McGowan, leave walking, for my car is on the back end of a taxi.

I, Frances Aman, leave wishing that I could join the Navy and Jimmy.

I, Guy Evans, leave my wit (?) to Shelley Beard.

We, Martha Conway and Virginia Ross, will our rusty red hair to Betty Ann Young.

I, Edna Mills, will my neatness to Mary Smith.

I, Helen Gurganus, leave GHS—for the University of North Carolina.

I, Ruby Staton, leave my way with boys to my sister Marguerite.

I, Vick Nickols, leave GHS glad to be out.

I, Eleanor Clark, leave school in hopes of finding my ideal in the form of a man.

I, Lorraine Smith, leave trying to get a permanent job as Barbara's chauffeur.

I, Beverly Neilson, leave to join the many, many boys at Wake Forest.

I, Mary Lee Abee, leave Louis Clark to the mercy of the Junior High girls.

I, Barbara Gardner, leave my ability to—prance to Barbara Bullard.

I, Marion Brown, leave content with James Haney.

I, Betty Jo Wilson, leave my dramatic ability to Mary Ann Keel.

I, Mary Lou Braxton, leave laughing at high school and the world.

We, Dolores Little and Melva Harris, leave hoping we can be together.

I, Lela Gay Bell, leave my last bottle of peroxide to Lucy Hannaford.

We, Jean and Frances Williams, leave hoping we'll never return.

I, Rosemond Nicholson, leave to join Hoyt in his new green convertible.

I, Merlene Jackson, leave to join Seth at Lizzie.

I, Jimmie Cozart, leave Barbara to the other hounds of GHS.

I, Billy Jordan, leave my ability to yo-yo a softball to Rufus Stark.

I, Esther Corbette, bequeath my ability to write source theme to Fred Joseph.

I, Faye Bullock, leave my quietness to Joanne Bloom.

I, Graham Baker, will my ability to turn cartwheels to whoever wants it.

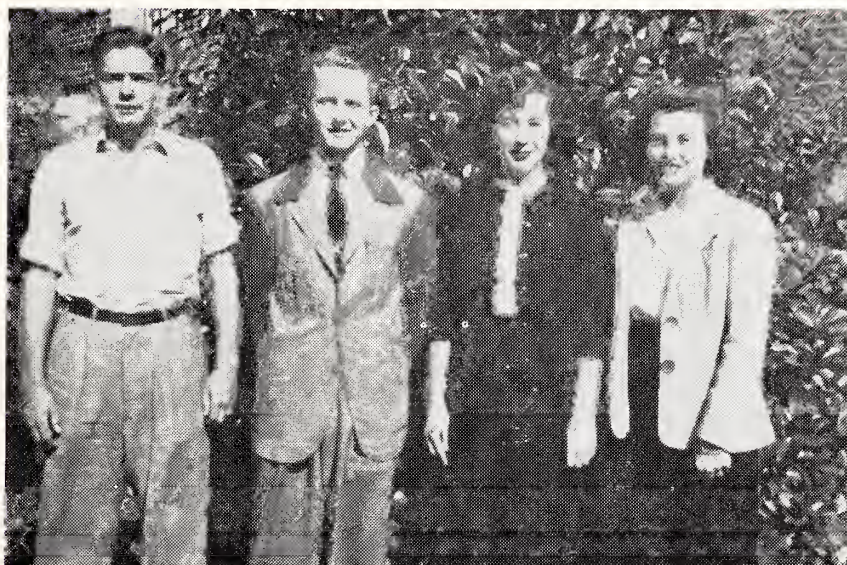

I, Jenny Briley, leave my sweet disposition to Virginia Morgan.

I, Christine Tripp, leave my shortness and stoutness to Lucil Laughinghouse.

TRAFFIC COMMITTEE

The traffic committee, a standing committee of the student council, is appointed each year to keep order in halls, to keep noise at a minimum, and to direct traffic during the changing of classes, before and after school. This year its members were: Billy White, Dorothy Savage, Billy Bowen, Barbara Gardner, Billy Sutton, Lucile Laughinghouse, Billy Williams, Bettie Anne Young, David Jones, Carolyn Clark, Ann Beatty, Sherod White, Mary Ann Keel and Guy Evans, chairman.

This year for the first time thirteen girls were appointed to act as pages in the library. They proved to be very efficient in selling school supplies, checking books, and running errands. They are: Jennie Baker, Peggy Joyce Bowen, Lorraine Boyd, Betty Sue Branch, Mollie Hester, Ennis James, Janice Lewis, Martha MacKenzie, Betty Mobley, Doris Taylor, Doris Vandiford, Doris Warren and Janet Waters.

G. H. S. BAND

The band, under the capable leadership of Mr. Harold McDougale, has completed a very successful year. They have given concerts, participated in both out-of-town and local parades and participated in the state music contest at Greensboro. They have added much spirit and color to our school during the year.

G. H. S. ORCHESTRA

In its fourth year, the small GHS orchestra has given a concert, participated in both the district and state music contests and played for the graduation exercises. The orchestra received a "one" rating at the district music contest at ECTC and a two rating at the state music contest in Greensboro.

This year the orchestra met on Monday, Wednesday and Friday during activity period under the direction of Mr. H. A. McDougle.

GLEE CLUB OF G. H. S.

The music groups comprise one of the largest organizations in this school, under the direction of Miss Ona Shindler. The students have participated in the annual Christmas program, sung at various churches, and gave a concert in co-operation with the band. They made an excellent rating at the State Musical Festival in Greensboro. The boys group received a one plus rating; the girls, one; the mixed chorus, one plus.

The entire group is divided into two groups: the Boys Glee Club and the Girls Glee Club. The officers of the Boys Glee Club are: Howard Proctor, president; Jim Haney, secretary-treasurer. The officers of the Girls Glee Club are: Barbara Gardner, president; Betsy Flye, vice-president; Lois Waldrop, secretary-treasurer.

INDUSTRIAL HIGH SCHOOL

The industrial school located at the old N. Y. A. center is composed of three classes of boys who are transported to and from the school by bus. The course of study includes training in wood and metal work and refinishing furniture. Advanced class receives some training in mechanical drawing. In cooperating with the other departments of the schools, the boys build stage sets and scenery.

RADIO CLUB

This year the Greenville High School Radio Club has undertaken projects and trained new members. Its new members have made several radios and learned code. The Radio Club sponsored Eddy Arnold, singing here on Thanksgiving and a large crowd of townspeople attended. The crowning achievement was John Mayo's winning of his amateur operators license.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS

The Greenville High School Electrical Engineers under the direction of Mr. Roberson was organized to promote work and interest in electricity.

While the S. C. A. charges a fee for the use of the P. A. system, these members give their time free of charge to run the machine at all dime dances.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

In September new officers of the F. H. A. were installed at a candlelight service. Later in the year they were co-hostess at the District Rally held at E. C. T. C.

The club adopted a needy English family to take care of.

A collection of hobbies was displayed in the Trophy case and in the library.

On February 28 the F. H. A. Barn dance was given in the high school auditorium.

NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE

In the past year the Greenville High School Chapter of the National Forensic League has been very active. It has sponsored the weekly "High School Half-hour" over station WGTC. Early in the fall, it sponsored a county-wide oratorical contest. Schools at Bethel, Winterville, Greenville, and Bell Arthur submitted contestants. It sponsored the successful Halloween Dance after the Greenville-Kinston football game. The NFL sent sixteen delegates and sponsors to the District NFL congress held in Asheville. It was on the national NFL honor roll this year and had more new members last year than all other southern schools except one. It is working to make all its members poised, clear public speakers.

BLACK MASQUERS

In cooperation with the Dramateers we have given four plays. The first two were North Carolina Folk plays, "Ca'line" and "In Dixon's Kitchen." The third play was "Happy Journey" which we presented at Goldsboro and won favorable comment from the critics. We took "Happy Journey" to the Carolina Dramatics Festival at Chapel Hill and received the highest rating.

THE G. H. S. DRAMATEERS

Under the direction of Mrs. Howard Mims the Dramateers reorganized in September.

Their first two productions, "Ca'line" and "In Dixons Kitchen," were result of their study of North Carolina folk plays.

In observance of American Education Week they presented "America Unlimited."

In joint production the Dramateers and Black Masquers gave "The Happy Journey" at the Eastern Carolina Drama Festival, held in Goldsboro. The play was then entered into the State Drama Festival at Chapel Hill where it won the highest award given for play production by a city high school.

As a final production the Dramateers and Black Masquers presented "Music In The Valley" May 23.

The Midgets this year have completed a very successful football season with 5 wins, 1 loss and 1 tie. They organized this year for the first time under Bill Greene, coach, and Bill Kittrell, assistant coach. The only qualifications for a midget, other than being a good sportsman, is that he has to weigh 110 pounds or less and be 13 years old or under. The Mighty Mites have proved themselves to be worthy football material and we are sure that they will mean much to our future football teams.

MONOGRAM CLUB

The activities of the Monogram Club for the year 1947 have been many and varied. Included in these activities were the sponsoring of the annual Monogram-Faculty basketball game and the annual Monogram dance. They sold "T" shirts with "Green Phantoms" printed across the front to the student body and also sold programs to the fans at football games.

COGA

During the fall the COGA sponsored a successful dance in the high school auditorium after a football game.

New members were initiated into the club in October.

After Christmas, sweaters were purchased for members belonging to the club for two years, and medals were distributed to all members in the club one year.

Graduates Of 1947

YOUR NEXT STEP WILL BE AN IMPORTANT ONE

The gate has opened—on the path of a phase of life which will find you definitely —“on your own.”

Stepping into the world of affairs from school, you young men, and young women, will find that personal appearance is one of the stepping stones to success—whether you step into colleges:—into the business worlds: or become one of the best homemakers— you will always want to be well groomed.

We will always strive to help you by placing in our various departments moderately priced wearing apparel and smart accessories that will be becoming to your personal appearance. .

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATING SENIORS

We have watched you since you started in the first grade, and we are indeed mighty proud of your past records and achievements.

During our 82 continuous years of service in Greenville and the vicinity, we have done business with your mothers and fathers, grandmothers and grandfathers.

Now the time has come when we look forward with great pleasure to doing business with you.
